REORGANIZATION OF UNITED COAL CO. DECIDED ON

Creditors' Protective Committee Works Out Its Plan.

WILL CUT THE FIXED CHARGES

Other Economies Are Agreed Upon and Is Expected to Meet With Approval; Stock Issue and Terms of Its Distribution Are Mapped Out.

After months of labor by the creditors' protective committee, reorganization of the United Coal Company and allied corporations is assured. The committee mailed copies of the plan to all interested parties and the subscription agreement which has been underwritten by a syndicate.

The prominent feature of the plan of reorganization is the scaling down of fixed charges and elimination of the 6 per cent bond interest. The present outstanding securities of the companies participating in the reorganization consist of $5,512,500 bonds, $2,915,000 bond-secured notes, $21,100 purchase money mortgages, and 15,250,000 capital stock, a total of $13,798,600. The total of new securities of the reorganized company is only $11,727,100, consisting of $2,500,000 bonds, $1,000,000 purchase money mortgages and $8,227,100 capital stock.

The terms of exchange of old securities for new securities are as follows: Each depositing holder of $1,000 of the 6 per cent bond-secured notes will receive $625 in par value of 5 per cent preferred stock and $375 par value of the common stock of the new company, and each depositing holder of $1,000 of the 5 per cent bonds will receive $500 in par value of 5 per cent preferred stock and $500 par value of common stock.

Each depositing holder of other indebtedness of the United Coal Company will receive 25 per cent thereof in the 5 per cent sinking fund first mortgage and collateral trust bonds of the new company and 75 per cent in common stock, and the holders of interest on mortgages will receive the same proportions of bonds and stocks. The common stock of the new company will be issued in full to the holders of the 5 per cent bonds and 10 per cent in common stock. Holders of open accounts will receive like amounts of bonds and stocks.

In order to provide for new capital it is intended to offer for subscription to the depositing note and bondholders and unsecured depositors, not over $500,000 per share of the 5 per cent bonds of the new company on the basis of $750 per $1,000 bond, with which the reorganization committee will get $200,000 par value in preferred stock of the new company and $300,000 par value of the common stock, such proportions of stock to be given to each subscriber as his accepted subscription bears to the whole number of shares subscribed for and allotted to him.

The reorganization committee consists of the following: A. C. Robinson, chairman; Robert Wardrop, J. T. Hill, John J. Jones, J. Mortimer, George M. Watts, William D. Schiller, Frederick G. Kay, Ambrose Monell, Albert W. Johnson, Henry Russell Platt, The Commonwealth Trust Company.

MONDAY EVENING, JUNE 21, 1915.

AN AWKWARD PRIMER.
The news that Governor Brumbaugh has refused to approve the item of $2,500 in the appropriation of the Cottage State Hospital at Connelville for the paving of the street on two sides of the hospital indicates a cruel indifference to the sufferings of mangled humanity almost daily hauled over these rough and uneven streets to whom every jar and jolt is a stabbing agony.

The hospital trustees have been trying for years to get this street improved, but there were no studies in Connelville as well as Harrisburg. This year the local "trouble" have all been smoothed away, and contracts have actually been let for the paving. The state appropriation for the hospital's share of this improvement was assigned by Senator Crow and the members of the Legislature from Fayette county, and they made their promise good. The Governor promised to approve the appropriation, but he seems to have forgotten that promise. The failure fortunately will not prevent the street paving from being done. It may involve some delay in reimbursing the city, but eventually the state will have to pay the bill.

But the spirit of the veto remains, and is perpetuated in other items. The Governor has refused his assent, for example, to the purchase at a cost of $150 of a pulmotor, one of the greatest artificial aids known to modern medical practice in saving human life on and off the operating table. Its denial to the Connelville hospital may amount to a denial of life to some of the future patients.

The Governor also vetoed appropriations for inside repairs which are badly needed and concerning which he was advised. Economy in public expenditure is commendable, but its practice upon suffering humanity is abominable.

It is the testimony of state inspectors and others that no other state hospital in Pennsylvania has been more efficiently and economically administered than the Connelville hospital. For years the members of its medical staff served without compensation, and their salaries at present are nominal. The trustees of the hospital have been very modest in their requests for maintenance and equipment, so much more so than the average hospital that regulations for maintenance and improvements have almost invariably been granted without question.

This year it had been determined to use the Legislature for an appropriation of $50,000 for the purpose of erecting and equipping a building for the treatment of patients other than injured persons to which the present hospital is confined, but in view of the lateness of the request and the fact that others preceding it greatly exceeded in the aggregate the revenues of the state the matter was allowed to drop. Under the circumstances, the action of the Governor in putting down the hospital's appropriation is all the more surprising.

In making this statement we are not unmindful of the fact that the Governor was obliged to do some pruning, and we appreciate the natural reticence that the knife might just as well be applied to the Connelville hospital as to any other beneficiaries of state charity, but it must be remembered that state institutions like the Connelville hospital have first claim upon state consideration, and further that the facilities refused the Connelville hospital were crying necessities not extravagant outlays.

Millions were urged by the Governor and approved for the construction of public highways of stone and concrete, extensive for the benefit of the common people, but actually for the chief deflection of the uncon-mon motor car class whose ruling ambition is to smash the speed limit. It is not creditable to the Martin Luther of Pennsylvania politics that he should so early in his snow-white administration shout aloud from the heights of Capitol Hill, "Millions for joy riders, but not a cent for ambulance victims!"

Governor Brumbaugh is credited with having political ambitions higher than his present station, but he will never carve his way there by such awkward pruning as he has done in the case of the Connelville hospital.

CONSISTENCY.
The Uniontown Standard discredits as length on the alleged inconsistency of The Courier in its representations of the industrial situation, and asks enough foolish questions in connection therewith to start a kindergarten.

"The difference between The Standard and The Courier in this matter is that our Democratic contemporary has never featured any industrial matters save as they seemed to reflect some credit upon the Democratic administration, while The Courier has presented the industrial situation faithfully and comprehensively with regard for the facts rather than the politics of the situation, though it has not hesitated to draw the political moral where it was obvious."

Whether The Standard tries to mystify its readers about the industrial situation or whether it doesn't know any better is uncertain, but the result is the same.

The Uniontown News-Standard complains that we do it injustice in the story of the Westmoreland county colored girl and her unfortunate divorcee experience, because the mistake of our contemporary was corrected the very next day. We are willing to take the word of The Standard in this matter, however doubtful its value has appeared to be in other matters, but by way of explanation we desire to say that it seems we subscribe for the only two copies of The Standard which come to Connelville, and these do not always reach us, hence we missed The Standard's apology.

The Governor is too handy with the ax.

Judge Kenneth Mountain Landis has a fine sense of discrimination. A couple of years ago he fined the Standard $100 for publishing a story about a couple of days ago he fined an Illinois farmer 2 cents for driving a government agent seeking cases of foot and mouth disease off his premises with a shotgun.

The first step toward future peace will be the abolition of absolutism.

The News presumes that the editor of The Courier is opposed to Woman Suffrage because "his country days are over." As a matter of fact, this is not true, and as a matter of presumption the country days of the ostensible editor of The News are also over. Who, then, is the Woman Suffrage editor of The News?

Chlorine gas is only another evidence of hell of war.

The investigation of the Ferrand disaster indicates that the rules of safety first were not much in evidence.

The Constitution of Pennsylvania should be amended with respect to the Assembly's sitting and the Governor's veto and made to conform to the Federal Constitution, so that there would be no hold-over legislation for executive consideration, and to the end that the Assembly should have an opportunity to consider all vetoes of the Governor.

Colonel Bryan says Colonel Roosevelt is not a fit adviser in peace or war. There are things we might say of Colonel Bryan's advice, but Colonel Roosevelt can be trusted to say this.

A rumor out of Pittsburgh is that Oliver and Ellen have formed a political partnership. Never mind, we are all getting ready to be good Republicans in 1916.

Boston editors are withholding Bryan's grammar and Pittsburgh editors are finding fault with Wilson's construction. That's nothing. A certain Uniontown editor has sometimes presumed to question our own.

The Kaiser says he could sign up for peace any time he wants to. Now we know who is prolonging the trouble.

The German-Austrian forces are still pursuing the Russians, but it's a long way to Petrograd, especially for the only man who ever got there and he was glad to get back.

The Pope has four nephews in the Italian army. The Holy Father is a man of peace, but he seems to come of fighting stock.

The Upper Mississippi

By GEORGE FITCH,
Author of "At Good Old Seward"

The American traveler who has grown tired of throttling dollars as they rush by and who does not care to trust himself to an ocean liner infected by a cholera and scurvy, can do no better than to install himself upon the floating deck of a Mississippi river steamer, as well as a cure for his ailments, it cannot be equalled.

The Mississippi approaches St. Paul from St. Louis by flowing north, south, east and west with great industry, thus forming a series of loops, curves, convolutions and contortions, lined with cities and towns, which would cost a large fortune to duplicate. Great huffs rear their proud heads, forming the landscape on every hand, apparently trying to surround the steamer with two-foot fortifications.

Fifteen new reels of superior views are unrolled before him.

But just as the nervous passenger is about to start for an aeroplane, the river slips around a corner where fifteen new reels of superior views are unrolled before him, causing him to miss his dinner while watching the continual content between the headlands.

The government has taken the Upper Mississippi firmly in hand and has compelled it to flow in an orderly manner for 500 miles between wing dams and other engineering works. This provides plenty of water to float on but not enough to leap up into the hurricane deck and daw down the chimneys in case of trouble.

Beautiful and picturesque towns dot the upper rivers, and the citizen who is fond of foreign travel can stop off at any place, and secure the thrill of the same by asking the honest Norwegian bystander a question and getting two quarts of superluous "J's" by way of an answer.

The News of Scottdale.

Special to The Courier.
SCOTSDALE, June 21.—Drick is now being hauled in for the street paving which Father J. Edwards of Greensburg is doing a number of streets, and the streets with the exception of West Pittsburgh have their concrete foundations about laid, and the curbing all set ready for the brick laying. The West Pittsburgh street section is in pretty rough condition and the manner in which the curbstone are scattered along the street and no lights are used seem to invite an accident some night. The hollow just out of town is difficult to cross for automobiles, teams and pedestrians, the way being so crooked from the arrangement of the curbstones and piles of earth on the street and footway.

Children's Vacations

Little Talks on Health and Hygiene by Samuel G. Dixon, M. D., LL. D., Director of Health.

"One ship drives east and another west with the self-same wind that blows."

"That reads them the way they go."

School will soon be over and several hundred thousand boys and girls will be out for a three months' holiday.

After their winter's work in school they need change and diversion and healthful exercise. Perhaps during the school year, like any parents, you have shifted the burden of your children's supervision upon their teachers.

Now for three months the full responsibility rests upon the parental shoulders.

It is a serious problem how boys and girls shall spend their vacations, of course if you don't take a hand in it they will settle the question for themselves. There are always other boys and girls, perhaps many of them that you are in some way acquainted with, and, of course, there are always good and bad diversions at hand for healthy youngsters.

Through their parents' lack of interest many children have had bad habits and cultivated bad associates during vacations. Boys and girls must need entertaining occupation and their bodies need plenty of healthful exercise. The parents should try to guide this natural craving and where circumstances make it possible to join and share in some of the vacation amusements of their children.

While the majority of us continue our regular occupations, the summer usually offers some chance to get into the open and back bare to Nature.

Every boy and girl naturally has a keen interest in the world of nature. The choice is to let them go forth for the woods and streams. Cultivate this and share it. Since our schools have been teaching natural history you will find them especially keen. They will study the things of interest to you. All this will serve to give you an agreeable change and it will encourage the boys and girls to take an interest in the world of nature, every one of our children can do nothing better for their health, enjoyment and future happiness than to stimulate their interest in these things.

Girls With Beautiful Faces of Graceful Figures.

American girls have a world-wide reputation for beauty, but, at the same time, there are girls in Pennsylvania who possess neither beauty of face nor form because in these instances they suffer from nervousness, the result of disorders of the womanly organism.

At regular intervals they suffer so much that their strength leaves them; they are so prostrated that it takes days for them to recover their strength.

Of course, such periodic distress has its bad effect on the nervous system. The withered and drawn faces, the dark circles and crow's feet about the eyes, the straight figure without those curves which lend so much to femininity, beauty are the unmistakable signs of womanly disorders.

Johnstown, Pa.—"I was always ailing and had severe headaches up to the time I used 'Favorite Prescription.' I used remedies from several doctors but none helped me much. I learned of 'Favorite Prescription' through a little book thrown in the door. I had also heard of Dr. Pierce's remedies through some friends, so I began using the 'Prescription.' I was glad to see that it helped me, so I kept on using it until 6 or 7 bottles had been used. I got all over my headaches and my health was improved—I was put on my feet. My neural headaches never came back and my general health has been better than in years. If I should again feel the need of a woman's medicine I would use 'Favorite Prescription' on account of what it did for me on the above mentioned occasion."

—Mrs. LINA BUTLER, 307 Market St., Johnstown, Pa.

WOMEN CAN HARDLY BELIEVE

How Mrs. Hurley Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Eldon, Mo.—"I was troubled with displacement, inflammation and female weakness for two years I could not stand on my feet long at a time and I could not walk two blocks without enduring cutting and drawing pains down my right side which increased every month. I have been at that time purple in the face and would walk the floor. I could not lie down or sit still sometimes for a day and a night at a time. I was nervous, and had very little appetite, no ambition, melancholy, and often felt as though I had not a friend in the world. After I had tried most every female remedy without success, my mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and gained in strength every day. I have now no trouble in any way and highly praise your medicine. It has benefited itself."—Mrs. S. P. HURLEY, Eldon, Missouri.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For sale everywhere.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulcerations, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it? Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

French Imperial Guard under Marshal Ney.

"The house which marks Napoleon's headquarters was not in reality his headquarters, as he only stopped in the yard for an hour or two to examine some maps. A chair and table were provided him by one of the inhabitants of the house. These pieces of furniture are on exhibition at the house.

"There are four rows left on the battlefield and the greater part of it is in the hands of the British. The ground under which the Duke of Wellington is said to have stood during the battle, is no longer there. As the story goes, an Englishman purchased it from the owner and had it cut down and shipped to England. The Duke of Wellington is said to have been shot into the air into snuff boxes, cigar holders and other objects which he sold at fabulous prices.

"On a little hill to the east is Lord Raglan's house, where Wellington met Blucher after the battle.

"Coming to the tablet which marks the spot where Wellington, after embracing the blue-eyed girl, said: 'The world, for you have loved me, is sold at auction to be outdone, Blucher then answered: 'The glory of this day is due first to you.' After that there were more embraces and the two men parted.

"The ground around the relic is a museum, where all the soldiers' kit is on sale—pieces of armor, helmets, buckles, bullets, shoes and parts of guns. These may or may not be authentic, but it is a well known fact that the British are very proud of the day.
